The body was recovered, and had to be buried by contributions from the small means of his fellow-workmen, because this Davis would not pay his widow the money due her husband. The lady is yet in town, cannot speak English, and is in sore need of, the money earned by her husband before his death. Another su scription is being taken up among the comrades of her late husband to pay her expenses to New York, where she can raise mozey to take her to France. An effort made by some of the men yesterday to sell their "time" resulted in an offer of fifty cents on the dollar by a well-known broker, who said that even at this rate he was taking a big risk. These facts, and they are facts, should be sufficient to procure the kicking out of Messra. Bowen & Clarke, of Washington, and Davis, their tool here, from any decent community.

From an Appeal Correspondent. 1

Como, Miss., August 21.—Colonel Crumby will take an active part in the campaign—advocating the election of the Democratic ticket—with the enth siasm that seems to strike all the comrades of the great soldier, whose reputation is unscathed by Radical lying newspaper organs. What a pity that the northern editor can't allow the south even the privilege of an "enthusiastic campaign" in the incerest of peace and prospering. Why, only yesterday the colored people had a big celebration at Como, and they were uniformed in yellow shirts, and no one, not even the most rampant fire-eating southerner, raised a howl. Let our colored friends enjoy themselves, was the wish of all; friends enjoy themselves, was the wish of all; and as they marched and countermurched through our village, stopping at private resthrough our village, stopping at private residences and public places, with drams beating and banners streaming, with their voices raised, anthems of praise and peace filled the air, and happiness was in every face. At M'Gehee Bros. large and elegant brick storehouse wine was served to the entire party, and as each son and daughter imbibed the flowing bowl, appropriate good wishes were exchanged. The south is a strange land to our northern friends, and they persist in the grossest, most unjust and ridiculous misrepresentations of our people, both black and white. The average northern editor is a lunatic on the political situation, and when his party is recking with the recent exposures of their pet administration, they should call a halt in their abuse of the south, where the only social and political purity of the nation can be found. Our merchants and people are even to-day visiting markets of business and pleasure in the north, spending with lavish hand the money of the south, and yet we are abused, visiting markets of business and pleasure in the north, spending with lavish hand the money of the south, and yet we are abused, visiting markets of business and pleasure in the north, spending with lavish hand the money of the south, and yet we are abused, visiting markets of business and pleasure in the north, spending with lavish hand the money of the south, and yet we are abused, wilfied and insulted because we repel Railcalism as an o flous thing and urge our people to be on their guard against the monster; and when the intelligent reader takes in the situation as surrounds the Grant administrations, and is aware that Garfield will disgrace the nation with similar acts, we of the south are determined, if possible, to prevent such disgraces, and we do not intend that negro ignorance, encouraged by Radical intamy, shall control our State or nation. WHAT THE PEOPLE

Have to Say Personally on Public Questions-A Grand Excursion to the City from the Surrounding Country Suggested by a Leading Citizen.

Proposed Lecture by a Talented and Promising Young Colored Man-Rebels and Heretics the World's Great Leaders-J. M. Harris for State Senator.

EDITORS APPRAL—As the time is near at hand when the Democratic party will have to select candidates to represent Shelby county in the two bouses of the next general assembly of the State, permit one who is deeply impressed with the importance of this particular time of choosing honest and capable men for that station to say a word in favor of a gentleman who is particularly well-fitted for it, and who has more than ordinary claims to the support of the Democratic party as well as the confidence of the public. I allude to Hon. James M. Harris, whe in a previous service in the legislature at a very allude to Hon. James M. Harris, who in a previous service in the legislature at a very early age, proved himself an honest, vigilant and efficient public servant. Manly and courageous in his deportment, earnest and steadfast in his political convictions and loyalty to his party, yet courboous and respectful to political opponents, few men have a stroager hold upon the masses than he has. During the recent canvass he rendered most valuable and efficient service in the cause of good local government, and contributed very largely to the sweeping Democratic victory which was achieved. He is a good and a true man, who can be relied upon in any emergency, and I, therefore, put him is nomination before the public for one of the senators from Shelby in the next legislature, subject to the ratification of a county convention when one is held.

Proposed Lecture by Albert Thomas EDITORS APPRAL—We take this method of introducing to the favorable consideration of the public a young citizen of Shelby county, of great promise, who, in order to obtain the means of completing his university course, proposes to deliver a lecture in Memphis on the night of the twenty-eighth of this month. The lecture will be no catchpenny affair. Indeed, all things considered, it is a most remarkable production; in style, ornate; in substance, sensible and instructive; it will, we are satisfied, prove a treat to all who hear it. Judging from what he read to us of the lecture, the lecturer is an excellent Latin, German and French scholar, and the correctness of his pronunciation and accent, his elegant diction and flowing style, give promise of ripe scholarship and distinguished literary attainments. Withal his modesty is no less conspicuous than his undoubted talents. Perhaps you will be surprised to learn that EDITORS APPRAL-We take this method Perhaps you will be surprised to learn that this young citizen and lecturer is a colored man—Albert Thomas, the son of U cle Tom, man—Albert Thomas, the son of U cle Tom, of Raleigh, whom southers people all respect for his manly course since the war. We earnestly hope that Albert may have an overflowing house of ladies and gentlemen, because of his real merit, the worthy object in view, and because he follows his father's example and teachings, in believing that the white copie and colored people can and should live together in friendship, mutually trustful of and helpful to each other.

We heartily approve the within, JOHN L. T. SNEED, M. BURKE, D. T. PORTER, EDITORS APPRAL—Now that our home people, our neighbors and our friends in all the country tributary to Memphis are secure in the belief that we will eacape having the yellow-fever this year, if not for all time to come, would it not be well for the entire community to put forth an effort to show to the outside world what we have done, as well as what we intend to do toward building upon the bluff a city which will in time be second to none in the southwest? Chicago has had her demonstration; St. Louis, Cincinnati and Louisville are soon to have theirs, and must it be said that Memphis lies dormant and shows no sign of life; that her property-owners, merchants and cutzens generally are wanting in enterprise? No, sirs, not a bit of it. We want, and must have, an excursion, in order to show to our friends and well-wishers, as well as to strangers from a distance, that we have pluck and enterprise; that we are wanting in nothing, save capital and manufactures, in order to 'make Memphis one of most, if not the most, desirable and pleasant cuties in which to r.side on this continent. Then let some day in the early part of October be agreed upon; let the property-owners, merchants, bankers and professional men raise tea thousand dollars; let this sum be placed in the hands of a general-in-chief, a man in whom the public has confidence, and one who has never betrayed a trust; let him select from among the other good and worthy men of the community a personal staff of five; then let this general and staff devise ways and means to bring the people here and return them back home, at one fourth the cost of one regular fare. Tickets to be good for ten days. Let this priyilege reach out in every direction, on all railroad and steamboat lines. It is followed only for a while, for the effort it requires is fatiguing. Mesers and Mercitics.

Editoria Appeala.—I have carefully read over the Republican address published in very the Republican address publi Smith, Eaton & Co. deny that the northern Republicans do not keep up that cry to this day about the southern man who runs for office here in our own country? Perhaps Smith, Eaton & Co. will retort by saying, "Well, your candidates were rebels." Very well; we will accept and keep the name of rebel—we have not the least objective. tion to the word. It is a good old word; it represents our grand old forefathers—Wash-ington, Jefferson, Hancock and Adams. And right here we may as well state a fact which we defy the whole Republican party to disprove, viz.; that in the political world the word rebel occupies precisely the same position that the word heresy occupies in the religious world. The time was when the word heresy was the very worst which could be burled at a man or a woman. As accusation of heresy meant diagrace and civil death. This was in the age of churcintolerance. Just in the age of churc civil death. This was in the age of church intolerance. Just in proportion as religious freedom obtains the crime of heresy dies out of the world. So it is with rebellion. The time was when a charge of rebellion meant the hangman or headman. Just in proportion as oppression loosens its grip on the freedom of the people, do the blood-red dyes of the word rebel fade away. There never could have been such a crime as horesy had there not been first religious oppression. There never could have been such a crime as rebellion had there not been first political oppression. Heresy cannot possibly exist except back of it is religious oppression. Rebellion cannot possibly exist except back of it is political oppression. When a church accuses its members of hereay, it convicts itself of a worse crime than hereay—intolerance. When a government arraigns its Corpse Ready.

itself of a worse crime than hereay—intolerance. When a government arraigns its people for rebellion, it damns itself. The fact of rebellion proves that there was oppression to cause the rebellion. Rebellion is the effect—oppression the cause. Can a people rebel against freedom? The thing is impossible. It would be like fighting the zir. Hebellion follows political oppression as effect follows cause. Hereey follows religious oppression as effect follows cause. The people of the south rebelled because they felt that the government of the north was oppressive to them. Never can rebellion be made odious to the English speaking people. Why? Because every particle of the political freedom we now possess we owe to the rebellions of our forefathers. The English government is built up of rebellions. Its foundations were laid by rebels and comented by rebel blood. laid by rebels and comented by rebel blood. The American government is rebellion itself. Rebels and heretics have done more for human freedom than all the leyal people whe ever lived or died. This fact no thoughtfu

L. Muldrow, Democratic nominee for congress from the first congressional district of Mississippi, addressed the citizens here last night in the female institute, at which there were a number of ladies present. His speech was such as he always delivers splendidly, and was received with constant applause. He showed up the Greenback party from the beginning, and proved to his audience that they were no better than the old Radical party that had been ruling the south for a number of years past. There is no doubt of this gentleman carrying his district for the Democratic nominees by a larger majority at the ensuing election than ever before.

New York, August 21.—The examination of Alliger, insurance broker, accused of negotiating ten thousand dollars worth of atolen Hamibal and St. Joe bonds, was continued to-day. There was a large attendance of Wall-street brokers. A sensation was caused by Police Inspector Byrne, who preferred another charge against Alliger. In February last the First national bank of Westport, Connecticut, was robbed of a large amount of securities, among which were eleven thousand dollars belonging to Francis Sherwood. These were traced to the Third national bank of this city, where the inspector alleged they were hypothecated by Alliger. Among the bonds stolen at Westport found in the Third National bank and identified, is one Chicago and Northwestern consolidated sinking fund seven per cent bond and two one thousand-dollar Chicago and Northwestern first mortgage bonds. As the officers of the Westport bank are now necessary, the case went over till Monday.

A Business-Like Suicide.

Louisville, August 21.—Silas P. Lewman, a venerable and very wealthy citizen of Clark county, Indians, committed suicide at two o'clock yesterday afternoon near his home, a mile and a half from Prathers station, by shooting himself through the head. The manner in which he committed the deed was rather novel. He loaded the gun heavily and went out in the road, one hundred yards from the house. Standing equarely before the gun, he placed his forehead upon the barrel; and, with the ramrod, touched the trigger and fired the gun. The load entered his head and made frightful wounds, blowing a great portion of his head off and scattering the bones and fisch. About two weeks ago the deceased went to Charlestown and made arrangements for his funeral. He had his measure taken and coffin made. He informed Mr. Teeples the manner in which and where he should be buried, and made all necessary arrangements for interment. For many years Mr. Lewman has been sflicted with cancer on his face and has suffered greatly from the sfliction. Mr. Lewman was about seventy-five years of age and has resided in Clark county since 1816.

DENVER, COL., August 17.—The APPEAL is a daily welcome visitor. The Radical traveling-show, General Grant, paid Denver a visit last evening. The reception was very weak—not as many on the street as there was to see the grand parade of either Cole or Barnum's. People are getting more sensible and getting down to steady soberness. Such dummy shows are a thing of the past. Colorado is counted Republican, but I would like to bet a box of No. 1 Havanas that Hancock and English will carry the "Baby" State in November, with Bull Loveland for governor, and a majority for Hancock and English.
